

ZEALOT CANTICLES (2017)

An oratorio for tolerance

LANSING MCLOSKEY

on writings of Wole Soyinka

The Crossing

Donald Nally

Doris Hall-Gulati, clarinet

Rebecca Harris, violin

Mandy Wolman, violin

Lorenzo Raval, viola

Arlen Hlusko, cello

- I. Renunciation (Preludium) 3:31
- II. Let's start 3:53
- III. Perched on church steeple 3:49
- IV. I intend to be blunt 3:50
- V. I shall ram pebbles in my mouth 2:22
- VI. Armed with book and beard 3:29
- VII. The writing on the wall 4:23
- VIII. I shall place nettles on my tongue 2:10
- IX. Seek havens of peace 8:05
- X. The dog in dogma 2:13
- XI. I am right, you are dead. 6:03
- XII. I shall place werepe on every tongue 2:24
- XIII. I turned to stone 5:13
- XIV. The man dies 2:03
- XV. I'll drop ratsbane on my tongue 2:52
- XVI. The 13th Canticle 2:59
- XVII. Where are all the flowers gone? 4:24
- XVIII. Bi o ti wa 6:52
- XIX. Bi o ti wa l'atete kose... 2:21
- XX. On fire today 6:17

— 79:16 —

© The Crossing. All Rights Reserved, 2018. innova® Recordings is the label of the American Composers Forum.
www.innova.mu www.crossingchoir.org

